Journal of Civil Law Studies

Six weeks after its publication in December 2008, the Journal of Civil Law Studies (JCLS) had been read in 34 countries on all continents, and HeinOnline already requested the privilege of making the JCLS accessible to its readership.

For additional information about the JCLS please visit: www.law.lsu.edu/jcls

The JCLS invites the submission of articles for its Volume 2, to appear in the fall of 2009. The deadline for submissions is June 15, 2009. For more information, please email jcls@law.lsu.edu

JCLS Student Writing Competition 2009

The JCLS invites submissions from J.D. and LL.M. students currently enrolled at the LSU Law Center, and from alumni who graduated on or after 2006. The deadline for submissions is June 15, 2009. The winning author will receive a certificate and the paper will be published in Volume 2 of the JCLS. Second and third place winners may also be chosen, and will receive a certificate.

Submissions should be original, unpublished scholarly essays on any aspect of the civil law. Essays may deal with civil law topics, relationship of civil law and common law in mixed, civil law or common law jurisdictions, especially where offering comparative perspective or overview.

Each essay will be anonymously reviewed by two reporters. The final decision will be made by a panel designated and chaired by the Editor-in-Chief.

For more information, please email jcls@law.lsu.edu or ccls@law.lsu.edu

Prof. Emeritus Robert A. Pascal Receives Honor from the LSBA

The Louisiana State Bar Association (LSBA) recognized Prof. Emeritus Robert A. Pascal, and seven other lawyers, who have been members of the state bar for 70 years. At a reception in their honor on Friday, January 16, 2009, the honorees received certificates to acknowledge their achievements and posed for photos with LSBA authorities and local members of the judiciary.

Robert A. Pascal was Assistant Professor (1945 – 1952), Associate Professor (1952 – 1955), and Professor of Law (1955 – 1980) at the LSU Law Center. He is currently Professor Emeritus in residence, and has recently published “A Summary Reflection on Legal Education”, in volume 69 of the Louisiana Law Review (2008), pp.125-138, with a foreword by Prof. Olivier Moréteau.
